So grave is the danger of a repeti-tion of the Moscow tragedy that sev-eral of the Grand Dukes have not stirred out of their palaces since the murder, and instead of going to Tsarskoe-Selo to attend the requiem there, they have participated in special services held in the chapels of their own palaces. Dispatches from the interior say that requiems for the Grand Duke have been held throughout Russia.

IBY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.1 MUKDEN, Feb. 19 .- (Exclusive Disthat Japanese cavalry, said to be seven squadrons strong, routed two battalions of frontier guards at Huoshib Pass, 120 miles northeast of this city, Friday afternoon. The announcement has created great excitement, as it places within the power of Japanese raiders the opportunity to destroy the and also further south across the Shing River, thus cutting off the Russian army from its regular source of supplies, by the railroad which runs south from Kirin.

The reports show that the frontier ruards on the railroad south of Huoshih observed the enemy west of the railroad in the mountains Friday, and went forward to attack. Only a squadron of Japanese cavalry was in sight, but after the engagement had opened, the Russian battalions were outand more than fifty of the command killed.

The Japanese must have come across the Liao River, making a wide detour around the left of the Russian army south of Mukden. There are conflicting reports making the enemy's strength from five to eleven squadrons. The reserves have been sent down from airin, 110 miles north, but it is feared that the railroad will be destroyed at Chandtu and at Kaiyan, twenty miles north of Tihling Pass.

The raiders were last reported crossing the main road and going east. Gen. Mistchenko's division of Ural scouts has gone north to intercept the Japanese.

The naval officers had no criticism of Gen. Stoessel or the conduct of the defense of Port Arthur beyond the fact that me Russian fleet was undermanned and had not a sufficient supply of ammunition when the warbegan. Port Arthur, they said, would have fallen the latter part of August had it not been for the strengthening of the land defenses with guns and men from the fleet.

"Gen. Stoessel," said Capt. Von Essen, "is a brave soldier, a great general and a true patriot. He held to the last minute. He had lots of ammunition, certainly, but have you ever heard of any army which could live on ammunition? Lack of food was the main reason for the surrender. There were not more than 10,000 ablebodied soldiers in the garrison when it was surrendered."

According to the statements of the officers, but little food was carried through the blockade by junks. The Russian officers will leave for New York in a few days, whence they will report to the Russian Ambassador at Wushington. They speak in the highest terms of the treatment accorded them by the Japanese. None would express any opinion on the domestic condition of Russia, but they were hopeful that the war would have a successful issue.

the facts of the case are that, about seven weeks ago, Mrs. Stanford one morning drank a gless of mineral water which nauseated her for a few moments, and on the advice of friends she had the water analyzed, but without sensational results. Being of a nervous temperament, she turned the matter over to a local firm of detectives which, after a day's investigation, satisfied her that no attempt had been made to injure her, and the affair was finally told to her friends as a joke.

Prof. David Starr Jordan, president of Stanford University, referring to the matter, said: "The report that Mrs. Stanford left for the Orient because of an attempt at poisoning is entirely unfounded. The fact is that Mrs. Stanford was threatened with pneumonia, and her physician advised a warmer climate than San Francisco. It was for this reason alone that the started on her trip. She did, however, tell me a month ago that she had been served with a bottle of mineral water which had a peculiar tasto, but she did not trink it. She did not think for a minute that any attempt was being made to polson her, and I do not believe there was." of the Veteran Dr.

The trouble started when two policemen came upon a crowd cheering and applauding a speech made by one of their number. The policemen were unsuccessful in dispersing the people, and called for the reserves.

seen by any one, the detectives at work on the case find their task extremely difficult.

About 2:15 o'clock the cashier was called to the telephone only a few steps away from her desk. Suspecting nothing, the young lady closed the money drawer, which contained over $2000 in bills, silver and gold, and took up the receiver.

"Hold the 'phone a moment, please, Miss Gates: there is a lady here who wants to speak to you," said a man on the other end of the wire.

"All right," responded the cashier, as she stood with the receiver to her ear and waited patiently for the sound of a feminine voice.

Several seconds elapsed, and then the man's voice came over the line again, "Sorry to have kept you waiting, bit the lady has gone out. She says she will call you up later," said the stranger.

Wondering who the lady could be, Miss Gates walked back to the desk she had quitted anly a few moments before, to find the money drawer standing open and a large package of bills and several gold pieces missing. Stacks of silver and some gold re-

West Jefferson street is to have a new car service and within a few days plans will be formulated at the head offices of the Los Angeles Interurban Railway Company whereby the rapidly-growing section west of Vermont avenue will be brought closer to the heart of the city. It has been decided to run the big red University cars of the Interurban Company down Vermont avenue as far as Jefferson street and thence west on Jefferson street to the city limits. A short service will be maintained between the junction of Vermont and McClintock avenues to connect with the larger cars. The extreme southwestern part of the city will receive the attention it has so long sought. The Interurban people were loth yesterday to tell just when the change would go into effect, but officials stated that cars would be operated along the new route the early part of March.

The revival meetings, which have been conducted during the past week by Evangelist C. T. Schaeffer, have proved of much interest to the many who have attended each afternoon. Business men and property owners are circulating a petition, which already has won many signers, asking for a "blind sewer," and for the paying of Pico street out to the city limits. The desire of the many residents of this section for this improvement is so great that no stone will be left unturned to assure the continuance of the work. Pico street is to become one of the finest thoroughfares in the city interest plans mature.

The first and second basketball teams of the University of Southern California played a match game of basketball Saturday morning on the college campus. The first team proved its superiority by decisively beating the second by a score of 27 to 17. The game was exciting and filled with brillant plays by members of both quintettes. Mable Payton and Ethel Hogan were the strength of the first team from the Girls' Ceollegiate School. The contest is billed for the indoors court of the new "gym" and only women apectators will be welcome.

The chorus choir of the University Methodist Church chartered a special car on Saturday and weat to Long Beach 180 strong, with Singer Harry Maxwell-in charge. The University Chorus, which has sung so faithfully during the revival meetings in the third district, has attained a high degree of proficency and there is a movement looking toward the permanent organization of the well-trained Chorus.

Omega Kappa Phi fraternity initiated Boyd Comstock and Harold 21. a provision in a proposed new election law that demands that all applicants for registration as voters show themselves able to read and understand the organic act of Arizena with more or less idea of its meaning. Any registering officer who fails to observe the requirements of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Most of the work of the House has been over the bill creating Superior Courts. Most of the members of the legal profession seem in favor of the measure, which is designed to lift the greater part of the burden of the present district courts, which, under their organization, prinarily are United States courts, permitted to have jurisdiction in Territorial cases, the Territory increasing the emoluments of the several judess for their added work. The bill will pass the House, but will have violent opposition in the Council. Another bill that is having trouble is that which makes a breach in the present live-stock sanitary laws by permitting the butchering for sale of cattle by unlicensed owners, limited to two animals a month. It is claimed, with apparent good basis in fact, that the present law serves to sustain meat trusts in the main towns of the Territory, as well as to restrict the liberty of citizens who wish to market at first hands the products of their own ranches. It is contended that a stock raiser should have as much liberty to market the meant town and the pumpkins.

DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS. WERNON.

The wedding of Miss Edna Pearl Boynton and Alfred G. Hann was solemnized yesterday by Rev. H. S. Gallaudet at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Boynton, No. 1143 East Forty-sixth street, in the presence of ε company of relatives and close personal friends. The bride was attended by Miss Frances I. Taylor and the beet man was R. H. Bacon. Mr. and Mrs. Boynton have left the city on a short wedding trip, and will be at home after March 1 at No. 1421 West Ninth street.

The substation of the city postoffice for the accommodation of the South Park neighborhood has been opened in the new building at the corner of South Park avenue and Lee street.

Revival services will be held in the Vernon Christian Church and the Central Avenue Methodist Church during the present week, as it is thought advisable to follow up the union meetings with a special effort in the Vernon district.

A masquerade ball was given on Tuesday evening in Akey's Hall by the Vernon Camp. Modern Woodmen. Fifty couples participated.

W. E. Hill of No. 1260 East Portyfith street has returned from a sojourn in San Francisco.

DISTRIBUTION OF FUNDS.

The distribution of public funds to the various Territorial public institutions is commencing. The most interesting of the reports is that of the Committee on the Territorial Penitentiary. It has been found that about $75,000 would be needed to put the historic Yuma prison into reasonably decent shape, but appropriation of this sum is advised against. According to the committee, the prison should not be at Yuma, at all. There are no quarries in the vicinity nor any show for useful employment of the convicts. Even the prison farm is so much subject to inundation from the Colorado that its value is little. The committee suggests that it would be well to provide a branch prison at some point tempt will be made for the enlargement of the Industrial School at Benson, with the same idea.

Good-sized appropriations will be asked for for the benefit of the Normal School of Arizona at Tempe, which now has an attendance of about 200 and which is doing magnificent work in the training of teachers for the public schools. The institution is a popular one with the Legislature, which visited it in a body a few days ago. This year appropriations are asked for a new training-school building, for a large addition to the new and already overcrowded girls' dormitory, and for a central heating system. The Northern Arizona Normal School at Plagstaff, with attendance of about sixty, wants a dormitory. The university at Tucson wants $30,000 for various improvements.

ROUGH RIDERS' REUNION. President Frederick Muller of Santa Fé, president of the Rough Riders' Association, has definitely set the next quadrennial meeting of the association for March 30 and 31 at San Antonio, Texas. The President will be present on the 31st. It is understood that the Business Men's Club of San Antonio has provided for a grand reception to the President and his comrades in the war, who had their first regimental rendeavous in Riverside Park, near San Antonio, The members of the regiment are scattered widely, however, and it is believed that not more than 200 of the original 1000 can be present.

WILFUL HOMICIDE. Pedro Salazar, killed Thursday by Maximiliano Lucedo at a sheep camp north of Phoenix, was a prominent Republican politician of Phoenix. He was well educated in English and had was well educated in Engish and had often served as court interpreter. Lucero has been charged by a coroner's jury with wilful homicide, and has been held without bail. His only defense appears to be that he feared Salazar was armed and, therefore, shot in self-defense. Salazar, it has been shown, had no weapon of any kind. Lucero has been provided with able counsel, employed by the sheepmen. A curious feature brought out by the case is that many thousands of the sheep now being sheared in the Salt River Valley and subsisting on the grasses of Arisona, are owned by New Mexicans, and have been driven here from New Mexico, and that they pay no taxes whatever in Arizona. Lucero and his partner, Ortega, both are citizens of New Mexico.

SHOT STOPPED HIM.

risoner Escaped from Police Station and Pursuing Officer Sent Bullets After Him.

By the prompt use of his revolver Patroliman Fisher prevented the escape of a prisoner from the Police Station early yesterday morning; but while he was pursuing that fugitive, two other prisoners made their escape and have not been captured.

Fisher is on the morning watch and soon after he went on duty yesterday morning he came upon three young men on Spring street engaged in a bloody fight. There were others in the crowd, but at the approach of the officer all but three ran and these Fisher-placed under arrest. He started to crowd, but at the approach of the officer all but three ran and these Fisher placed under arrest. He started to walk with them to the Police Station, keeping them in front of him. As he was in the act of opening the door at the station, the three prisoners made a sudden break for liberty, each taking a different direction. It was impossible for the o cer to follow all and he took after the largest. In order to frighten the fellow he fired a shot in the air, but that only served to increase his speed. The fleeting man turned north on Broadway and was outrunning the officer who fired a second shot, this time directly at the man. The bullet struck the ground so close to him that he must have heard it for he stopped and surrendered. He gave the name of Dan Lee and refused to tell who the other men were. Fisher does not know them and it is not likely that they will be captured. Lee will be prosecuted on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The newest project of the Los Angeles Railway is for the extension of the present Griffin-avenue line to Hermon—building from the present terminus at Avenue 33 as far east as Avenue 60, and following the far side of the Arroyo in its winding to the Free Methodist College, rising up on the near foothills.

Dr. C. B. Ebey, president of the trustees' board of the Free Methodist Seminary, says that he was assured on Saturday forenoon, at the railway offices, that plans were already in preparation for the extension, and that actual work would be begun within a short time.

The proposed line will be one of the scenicroutes of the city when completed.

Such was the haste with which Wade removed Kelly that he did not wait to secure the latter's effects, which are in the hands of the police. He will return for them today, and after that he may take Kelly to some of the smaller towns in this part of the State, there to remain until his charge is strong. As he was about to leave. Chief Hammel asked Wade whether he would make any statement for publication. Instantly he showed anger and in most forcible language refused to see any person or talk to any person about Kelly's strange disappearance. He told Chief Hammel's however, that far from being wanted on any criminal charge, Kelly has $15,600 to his credit in a Philadelphia bank and his business. Is in excellent condition. If he used funds of relatives or triends that was their business and his and if there was any shortage it would be made good immediately. The claim of $22,000 has already been settled.

Wade would not even take ances on the street of meeting some person who might know Kelly. He rushed out of police headquarters, went up the hill to Hill street, thence to Second where a hack was waiting and in this the two were driven to some place which Chief Hammel himself says he knows not of.

HIAWATHA ON SNOWBALLING.

"Yesterday," said Hiawatha.
"On my way down to the office, I was walloped by a snowball—Thrown by some hard-nitting urch Ou my classic mug it struck me, On my frontispiece, my forehead, And it bounced into the gutter With a sort of satisfaction, Just as if it meant to tell me; 'Hiawatha, I have lammed you.'

"Every time I pass a cluster
Of those busy little rascals
Known by courtesy as schoolboys,
I become extremely nervous;
When I see them packing snowbal
When I see them softly giggling, Up I turn my uister collar, Down I pull my head within it, Feeling positive, my dearies, That I shall become a target.

'In the land of the Ojibways Little urchins threw no snowballs: Should you ask me why they didn't. This, I think, would be my answer: Chicken-Feathers-in-his-Topknot Was a sassy little rascal, Always up to some bad mischief. Always looking for some trouble. 'Chicken-Feathers', said his mother. 'You will come to some had finish.' 'Chicken-Feathers,' said his father, 'Some day you will get it pjenty.' Naughty little Chicken-Feathers Did not heed his dear old parents, Hearkened not to their wise counsel; This is how he met his Jonah:

"Down the street came Phony-Scar pin.
Proudest dandy in the village.
Loudest Injun in the county.
Watch me shine, said Phony-Scarfpi Watch me captivate the ladies.
Then it was that Chicken-Feathers Saw this walking clothing cummy Sailing down the old Rialto.
And he whispered, "Watch me cop him Eagerly he packed a snowball, Packed it till it felt like pig iron.
Fic te try upon Jim Jeffries;
Then he let it go, my dearles, Packed it till it felt like pig Iron.
Fill te try upon Jim Jeffries;
Then he let it go, my dearles,
Let it go with speed terrific,
Till it landed with a vengeance
On the proud old Phony-Scarfpin,
Nearly breaking, when it landed,
His medulia oblongata.
Then the victim of the snowball
Slowly pulled himself together.
Chased the little Chicken-Feathers
Caught him sinally, and scalped him.
This discouraged throwing snowballs
In the land of the Ojihways."

Dear, dear—so Californian fruit is "indigestible." Thus have declared the fruit-growers of New York State, assembled in New York City on the occasion of a winter-apple show. There was no doubt or hesitation about 'the verdict; the telegraphic dispatch says that "the farmers applauded the sentiment vigorously." This is really too bad. Who would have believed that the apple, which seems to have been the fruit more particularly asselfed, would have gone back on us in this shabby way? To think that on one side of the Rockies it should be a sovereign remedy for indigestion, while on side of the Rocaiss it anomin as a series of the remedy for indigestion, while on the other it becomes the author of all mariner of gastric ilis. Since the days of Mother Eve the apple has been a base deceiver. We should have known it from the first. We should have known it from the first. We should have confined our attention to oranges, which cannot be grown in the Empire State, and so presumably do not come under the ban of our dyspeptic critics. Why did we send those carloads of rosy-cheeked apples to the St. Louis Exposition, allowing all the world to eat and all the world to express its wonder that California had not only added apples to her other horticultural triumphs, but had just about the finest specimens in the big show? Pardon, brothers of New York. We should have written "finest looking" or "finest tasting." We forgot for the moment that our apples are indigestible.

Another Evangelistic Campaign.

Yesterday morning at the First Christian Church a series of evangelistic services was begun by the united efforts of the First and Magnolia Avenue Christian churches of this city. Evangelist Sumner T. Martin preached upon "The Pure in Heart." He said, in part:

"This is part of the greatest sermon in the world in which Jesus enunciated the fundamental principles of His church in the world. Fundamental in Christian life is purity which can be obtained only by faith in and obedience to the Christ. The darkness of evil can only be cast out by the light of truth." Evangelist Martin will be assisted in this series of meetings by Prof. J. Walter Wilson as a leader of song. Mr. Wilson used the stereoption with telling effect, and is a fine leader of chorus, as well as a soloist of great power.

The Religion for Today.

At the Universalist service yesterday in Cunnock Hall, Reynold E. Hilght, formerly of New York City, preached on the subject, "The Religion for Today." He said:

"Man will never outgrow religion. Religion finds its origin in the deepest instincts of the human soul. At bottom ell religions are one. All religions are flowers from the same soil. Religion is the turning of the heart toward God, and upon this fundamental principle all religions are founded.

"But each succeeding age has a religious experience of its own. Each age has its own creeds, its own. Each age has its own creeds, its own shibboleths, its own statement of belief. It must interpret the great truths of religion in its own way. Even as each man finds God for himself, so must each age find God for himself, so must each age find God for itself.

"The religious thought and experiences of the past will not answer for the present. Our orthodox friends are complaining that the people are leaving the churches. The church is losing its grip upon the common people. Not even the great union revival, when religious enthusiasm is fanned to fever heat, succeeds in attracting the 'unchurched masses' to any appreciable extent. And it is not because the people are wicked, or sceptical, or irreligious. It is because the church of do-

The Christian finds his faith in God. The Christian finds his faith in God. THE RUSSIAN CRISIS.

THE ASSASSINATION OF SERGIUS, AND THE RUSSIAN GRAND DUKES.

SPECIALLY CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES; The awful tragedy in Moscow again calls the attention of the whole civilized world to Russia. Grand Dukes Sergius, who for a long time has been depicted by various sources of information as the strongest pillar of autocracy, and a frightful death at the hands of a fanatical youth, probably chosen by the terroristic wing of the Radicals to do the assassination.

"De mortuis aut bene aut nihil," is a wise ancient Latin saying. But this case is so far out of the common, the situation is so critical and so fraught with further dangers to a great country that the plain truth is necessary withstering the plain truth is necessary withstering. And an elements of the empire. He was probably the most resourceful and clever of the Grand Dukes, a strong disciplinarian and a threless worker. Some ten years so he was appointed Governor-General of Moscow under somewhart peculiar circumstances. Moscow, the first and ancient capital of the Russian Czardom, has always been jealous of St. Petersburg, and wanted to have some representative of the government and of the imperial court of her own. The post of Governor-General was created to fill that want, and for the last half century or more that post has always been occupied by the most complexious by birth, wealth and intimate relations with the imperial century or more that post has always been occupied by the most complexious known and on-selded. I hardly believe his death will in any way change the presentation, and the whole entourage of the Emperatory of the autocracy. It may even strengthen it. It certainly will always been occupied by the most complexious by birth, wealth and intimate relations with the imperial century or more that post has always been occ out ethical restrictions.

Grand Duke Sergius was the most energetic and outspoken defender of Russian autocracy, and, as such, was cordially hated by all liberal elements of the empire. He was probably the most resourceful and clever of the Grand Dukes, a strong disciplinarian and a tireless worker. Some ten years ago he was appointed Governor-General of Moscow under somewhat peculiar circumstances. Moscow, the first and ancient capital of the Russian Csardom, has alway's been jealous of St. Petersburg, and wanted to have some representative of the government and of the imperial court of her own. The post of Governor-General was created to fill that want, and for the last half century or more that post has alway's been occupied by the most conspicuous grandees of Russian aristocracy; conspicuous by birth, wealth and intimate relations with the imperial family, who maintained a regular viceregal court with the same functions and requirements as the imperial court in St. Petersburg. The immediate predecessor of Grand Duke Sergius, Prince Voldemar Dolgoroski, for over twenty years surprised Western Europe by the oriental spiendor of his palace and public balis and receptions. But the Moscovites were not satisfied; they wanted a member of the Imperial family, and, like the proverbial frogs in a pond who wanted a ruler, clamored for one so persistently and loudly that at last their wishes were granted, and Grand Duke Sergius was sent there. In the course of time he proved to be a regular stork sent to rule the frogs—but it was already too late, as he liked he place and held it for a decade—until killed.

Moscow is a purely Russian city, with many ancient patriarchal man-killed. Moscow is a purely Russian city.

Each of the studs had the appearance of having been nipped off a shirt front with a pair of sharp nippers, such as are used by pickpoeketa. Whenever the sharpers found any person who was willing to buy a "good" diamond cheaply and ask to questions they produced one of these stones and said nothing about the peculiar broken stud. The knowing customer would immediately call attention to it and remark that it looked as if it had been cut from a shirt front. Then the sharper would confide in his victim that he had nipped tae diamond while coming to California, that he could not sell it for fear of detection, that he needed money and would take almost anything for it.

Summing up of the Results of Evangelistic Campaign-Count of Cards Tells the Story-Closing Meetings of the Series.

"How many?" was the question on verybody's lips yesterday afternoon, is the great wave of religion began to asther its strength for the final meetings. Mingling with the orowd who sere hurrying to the mass meeting for sen in Temple Auditorium, one found the burden of their conversation to be the results that have been achieved. The women on their way to Simpson's Auditorium were anxious about the same question, and at University, where Dr. Biederwolf spoke to a throng of men that overflowed out onto the sidewalk, the question was propounded. Central district is first on the list, and last night the surprising total of 1990 seekers was realized. All of these have signed cards and expressed a desire to join a certain church. Five hundred will be cared for by the First Methodist Church, and the others will be distributed among the churches represented in the district.

Rev. Robert McIntyre beamed a seunshing smile when he said: "The meetings have been a success; I never saw a greater series. The churches have been unified and purified. Devils of sectarianism have been cast out, and the old slander that we differ among ourselves has been silenced forever. Hundreds of people, especially men, have seen their Savior and found peace with God. In the doctrines preached, in the sweet singing, in the sincere and burning zeal of the revivalists, in the fellowship of the cross, our city has been blest. Los Angeles before was a good town; now it is immeasurably better. God bless the evangelists and their helpers, every one!"

SECOND DISTRICT.

The second district has won merited honor for the uniform attendance at each of the meetings in Immanuel Presbyterian Church. In sunshine and storm saints and sinners have found their way to the big church that has become used to the spectacle of large crowds, and the rain has not driven hard enough to keep the faithful from attendance. Dr. Henry Ostrom vesterday broke all records by conducting four different services, and preaching four different services, and preaching four sermons. Yesterday morning without announcement or previous advertising he spoke in Immanuel Church on "Paul's Vision." In the afternoon he addressed a monster meeting of young people in the same church, and at 6:20 o'clock a like meeting in the First Presbyterian Church coming fresh and vigorous for the final rally at Immanuel Church last evening.

W. E. McVey, who is in close touch with the movement in the second district, said yesterday: "The meetings have been fraught with wonderful results, and the churches represented in this district have been revived and strengthened. Of course, we think that we have been served by the best man and we know that Dr. Ostrom has done all in his power to make the work a mighty success. Sunday morning thiray members of Immanuel Sunday-school united with the church as a result of the meetings, and we know there are more blessings to follow."

Rev. J. R. Compton, who has been in charge of the work on the East Side, reported the signing of 200 cards up to Friday evening. Yesterday poorning 100 other cards were gath-

Yesterday morning 100 other cards were gathered in from the Sunday-schools, bringing the total up to last evening the a little more than 350. Dr. Compton said: "Our expectations for the work in the fifth district were large, and we are not surprised that the have overtopped the results. Some of the churches in the seventh district were far removed from the center of the evangelistic effort, and as a result there is disappointment at the results. In the churches at Vernon 150 have signed cards, and the churches in the upper end of the district have a like number to report, though the most careful estimate yeaterday for the seventh and eighth districts resulted in a sum total of a little more than three faundred.

Four hundred have signed cards in the fourth district, and the work of Evangelist Stough has united the churches in the one great effort that has found utterance in the war cry, "Boyle Heights for Christ."

Said Rev. Dr. Healy of the University district: "We have a most grateful and satisfying retrospect. The attendance has been large, even when it rained, and the people have come because they were rewarded for combing. If one word were chosen to describe the "reaching of Dr. Biederwolf, it might well be sanity. He is a master of choice English, he is earnest, persussive eloquent; but his effectiveness lies especially in his recognition of the real value of men and women, and his constant appeal to what is most noble in them. His success with young men has been phenomenal. His address no Sunday afternoon, the 19th inst. In "God's Gentlemen," seemed to convince every man in the packed house that it is noble to be good. He has avoided everything that could prowoke reasonable men to find fault. The baric dootrines of Christianity have been as yould be every motive that a man should recognize. The churches of the fistrict have been as one. The great choruses has had in Harry Maxwei a leader of great skill. His solos have deen very effective. Before the Sunday afternoon meeting 350 cards had been signed, and it has been found that in said a man on the rostrum of Simpson Auditorium yesterday afternoon, as he prayed before 2500 women gathered for the address by Rev R. A. Walton on "Woman's Mission."

The service of song was conducted by O. F. Pugh, whose clear, tenor vorce was heard to good effect as he sang "The Holy City." A chorus of young ladies sang and a pleasing feature of the interesting service was the solo by a tiny maid, Miss Gladys Pugh, daughter of the singer. Gladys is only 4 years old, and in order to be seen it was necessary for the big man in charge to raise his daughter until she stood upright on the top of the high pulpit, where the sweet little voice sounded clearly over the big building packed with women, as she sang "I am Satisfied With Jesus. Is He Satisfied With Me?"

Just as the speaker was about to begin his address a sweet-faced old lady am Satisfied With Jesus. Is He Satisfied With Me?"

Just as the speaker was about to begin his address, a sweet-faced old lady sent in a request that the great audience might sing "Sweet Hour of Prayer." The request was readily granted, and sweetly the grand old refrain sounded from the many voices, while old and young united in praise. The effect on the audience was such that the service was prolonged, and again the women sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and down in the front rows kindly-faced women wept as the volume of song arose.

The theme of the leader was inspiring, and dealt with the mission of women who were to be angels of mercy to the midst of the trouble and distress.

The theme of the leader was inspiring, and dealt with the mission of women who were to be angels of mercy in the midst of the trouble and distress of this old world. Avenues of opportunity were pointed out, and the thought that this is, indeed, women's age was brought before his hearers by Rev. Walton.

The packed condition of the great suditorium prevented the carrying out of the workers' programme to a large extent, and the speaker was obliged to make his appeal to the great congregation who swelled up into the third gallery and kept coming until it was necessary to close the doors. There was no provision made for an after-meeting, and hundreds were turned away.

There were so many men that a large overflow meeting was held in the German Methodist Church.

Fred Butier sang into the hearts of his listeners until from the floor and the two galieries men clapped their approval and would not be content until the singer had repeated his song.

Dr. Chapman was full of fire as he rose to address the great throng. "I have never been in a city where pastors and people have treated us more royally. I want to thank you all and ask God's blessing upon this city," he said. The leader then prayed that the revival wave might continue to sweep along the Pacific Coast.

"We are going to sing our hymn," said the leader. "Who can guess what it is?"

The strange words of the text caught the attention of the men who listened as the speaker described the difference between sin and the yielding thereto. Temptation was said to be rather a compliment than otherwise and the sore afflictions of Job were shown to have been a means toward his perfection.

sore afflictions of Job were snown to have been a means toward his perfection.

"We have come to a time when people tell us that Satan has no personality," said Dr. Chapman, "but I deny this. The devil does not drive, he persuades. He never begins with the prison end of the story, but rather makes ain fascinating. I am not afraid of men falling into his clutches when he is in the stage described in our text.

"How does it happen that ever since you were born it has been easier to be bad than good? Any man who has gone into sin for five, ten or twenty years will find he is bound by chains of habit that only Jesus can break.

"Why is it that when your wife weeps over you or your mother sends you a tear-stained letter that you do not turn to Christ? I'll tell you. The devil makes you believe that your sin is unpardonable. I care not if your sin is black as hell. If you will take your stand for God today, I will answer for you at the judgment."

The after-meeting was impressive, being helped by the singing of blind Mr. and, Mra. Baker who are friends of Dr. Chapman. Many raised their h.nds for prayer, scores stood up, and still others came forward to the platform seeking a blessing.

ANOTHER CLIMAX. ANOTHER CLIMAX.

Immanuel Presbyterian Church was filled last evening until even standing room was occupied by many who were glad to get inside, though obliged to sta d for an hour, in order to listen to the grand man, Ostrom, who has endeared himself to hundreds.

The big chorus sang its most inspiring songs, the large audience joining in the refrains. Mr. Hillis sang "Would You Believe, and Jesus Receive, if He Were Standing Here?"

Before the sermon, Dr. Ostrom said:

Were Standing Here?"

Before the sermon, Dr. Ostrom said:
"After I leave, I want to hear of you people clearing every saloon out of this city. You can do it if you will keep this spirit of unity in your midst.

"You have a good climate—though from the East are expected in Gold-it is a little wet. Best of all I like this second district with its ministers and people.

"If you have any fault to find with the work that has been done here, blame Ostrom; and when I get up to heaven, I'll ask God to forgive you."

The speaker's text was taken from Matthew xxili, 37: "Jerusalem, Jerusalem, how oft would I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under hre wing."

Though the meeting of last night was the fourth service of the day for Local Mining MEN.

thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens under hre wing."

Though the meeting of last night was the fourth service of the day for Dr. Ostrom, he appeared vigorous and full of fire. Stepping to the edge of the platform he said: "How strange for Jesus to compare Himself to a hen that is even afraid of a hawk, and will run from a little girl. Yet that hen will chaze a dog around the yard in defense of her chickens.

"Courage is not everything. It's easier to come down the elevator from a six-story building than to jump down the shaft. There are some cyclones that you cannot meet with a sickle; there are some holocausts you cannot cover with an umbrella. I have known for years that it is possible for a man to cross the gang-plank, and get on board an ocean liner. But if that man 2000 miles from shore gets out where the water is three miles deep and tries to be the chip, though he can swim, the route is too long. When some man tells me he can get along without Christ. I say, 'Friend, you had better take the ship and accept the shelter of Jesus. 'It's a foolish thing for a man to try to blot out the sun in heaven. It is foolish for a man to try to blot out the sun in heaven. It is foolish for a man to try to blot out the sun in heaven. It is foolish for a man to try to blot out the sun in heaven. It is foolish for a man to try to the incommotive the present time with only a straw roof over-his head. He would get pretty wet. Don't you undertake to stretch your fingers out to try and stop the drive wheels of a modern locomotive. It would be hard on your fingers. Don't expect, even though you are a modern man, to get along without the shelter of Jesus; it would be hard on your soul."

IT WAS WONDERFUL.

Surrounded with an audience that pressed up to the very edge of the rostrum. Dr. Chapman addressed his largest gathering last evening at Temple Auditorium.

People just tumbled over each other in an attempt to gain entrance to the big pavilion, and when the house was full they marched across Central Park to the First Methodist Church, which was also filled for an overflow meeting.

The audience wanted to sing their appreciation, and could only show how truly happy they were by joining with the big chorus in the refrain. "Oh, Happy Day That Fixed My Choice." They sang on and on with no one to stop them, and the result of the bubbling good feeling was one of the best meetings of the series held in the central district.

The theme of Dr. Chapman was appropriate to the great effort that has been put forth by the ministers and corps of workers who have tried to speak with every individual of the many thousands who have attended the meetings for the past three weeks.

The subject was "Almost Persuaded," and the text was found in Acts xxvi 28. "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian." Dr. Chapman spoke briefly and said: "If you have made up your mind not to be a Christian you might leave this building this minute and never again enter a church, but you could never get away from the persuading power of the holy spirit though you traveled the world over."

"If you have been almost persuaded, don't go back. Get into the kingdom at any cost. It is better to be maimed and halt and blind and go in, than to be possessed of every power of brain and body and be lost."

The speaker then urged the many who have signed cards to speedily unite with some evangelical church, deciaring that their first effort would be greatly strengthened and hier Christian life be made immeasurably easier by contact with those who were walking in the upward way.

That the big meeting might be properly dismissed the leader said: "Let us sing Fraise God From Whom Ali Blessings Flow." They sang heartify and well, but when the hymn was at an end an

"We are going to sing our hymn," said the leader. "Who can guess what it is?"

Guesses were called for from the audlence and Robert J. Burdette, who was on the platform, said, "Shall We Gather at the River." "Dr. Burdette is right," said the leader. "Let us sing." Seloom has such a male chorus been heard in this city and the might youme of sound rose to the topmoat rafter as the heavy bassos sang "Yes, we'll gather at the river" and the most of the words.

The speaker chose his text from Job xvill, 18: "He shall be driven from light into the darkness, and chased out of the surging in the First Methodist Church on the subject, "God's Gentleve the words.

James Maliet Hawkins, a neat-appearing young man who says his home is in San José, tried to emulate James Hickox Carey, the San Francisco atlorney-counterfelter, but United States Secret Service Agent Cronin put a stop to Hawkins's game yesterday by arresting the bogus money man and confiscating his outfit.

The "borer" was caught in the act yesterday morning at No. 1248 South Flower street, by Agent Cronin, who had been informed of Hawkins's operations by Mrs. W. E. Godman in whose house the man had been reoming. Mrs. Goodman did a good bit of detective work and to her Cronin gives all the credit for capturing a fellow who the secret service men think has carried on extensive frauds on the Coast.

Hawkins engaged a room at the Flower-street bouse last Thursday and told Mrs. Goodman that he was a jew-sler.

The ailied and associate members of the Southern California Golf Association includes the Pasadena Country Club, the Rediands Country Club, San Diego Country Club, Hemet Golf Club, Santa Catalina Island Golf Club, Coronado Golf Club, Santa Barbara Country Club, Ensenada Golf Club, Raymond Golf Club, and Green Golf Club, at Pasadena, and the Los Angeles Country Club. As there are players in nearly all these clubs who have gone over the course at Los Angeles at a trifle over Bogey, the entry for the championship should be representative of all these clubs and the number entered from the Los Angeles club will probably be the largest of any fixture of the year.

MIDWAY OIL FIGHT RENEWED IN THE COURTS.

Trial of J. T. Walker's Suit for Damages Now in Progress at Ba-kersfield—Sheriff Provides Body Guards for Parties Interested—New Warrants Out Against Cornell.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TRIES.]
BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 18.—The suit for heavy damages brought by J. F. Walker, one of the victims of the Midway oil battle in 1901 against Millionaire Chansior et al is now going on in Department 1 of the Superior Court before Judge J. W. Mahon, Considerabe onterest is being manifested and much excitement prevails about the city, as there is much hard feeling on both sides.

George P. Cornell, another victim of the midnight battle, arrived here yesterday morning to testify. Sheriff Kelly at once provided body guards to take precaution against probable trouble.

When the criminal charges against When the criminal charges against several men supposed to have been implicated in the shooting were dismissed several months ago, Corneli opened fire with an automatic pistol upon E. J. Boust and Dr. Shafer on the crowded street, creating a sensation. At that time Boust had several holes put through his clothing, a window was broken and a department-store clerk received a slight wound. Walker was wounded in the fight for possession of oil claims. He asks for $75,000.

Of the testimony already offered the plaintiff has the advantage. An em-ployé of the Mount Diablo Oil Com-pany named McManus testified this afternoon that he occupied a cabin on pany named McManus testified this afternoon that he occupied a cabin on the land of the company for which he worked, and that on the night of the battle a party of between eighteen and twenty men came to his cabin and twenty men of the members. He could not say that Mr. Chanslor was asked to stand up and the witness stated that he did not remember seeing him on that night. McManus was asked it he knew anything about the shooting and answered that he did, and to the question as to who fired first, witness replied that the Mount Diablo party was the first. This was important evidence for the plaintiff, as the defense claimed they fired the volley in self-defense.

Late this évening Dr. Shafer and E.

A deposition by George Tichnor, a

It is furthermore reported that there is an ularming tendency to puffing with most of the fruit throughout the orange belt irrespective of locality, this condition being attributed to the beavy and prolonged rains which have made heavy the soil in the groves. Some growers attributed the discouraging symptoms to the late bot spell; and declare that if another hot spell follows now the damage will be widespread.

Apples Imported for New York Epicure.

[New York Sun:] There is growing up here in New York a cult in the art of good eating. There is a large and a growing group of New Yorkers who are not convinced by glitter and dazzling table equipment that the dinner they are eating is a good dinner. As to the price, that does not figure in their calculations. It never did, for that matter; but now it is coming to be more and more insisted upon that the price shall be felt in the food itself rather than in the food accessories.

Rev. E. J. Bulgin and Prof. Gates, who have been taking part in the evangelistic services at Los Angeles, have been secured for a series of services here, commencing next Wednesday. Six churches join in the movement, and it has been arranged to feature the revival with cottage prayer meetings at the homes of the various enthusiasts about town.

Services were held in the Spanish mission here this evening in honor of the memory of the late Rev. A. Moss Merwin of Pasadena.

The Bray divorce case, which has been on the default calendar some weeks, was tried before Judge F. F. Oster yesterday, being continued for one week. Mrs. Bray is a woman of attractive appearance, and has based her grounds for divorce upon allegations of a secret nature.

Yet the greater part of all of these supplies for the most expensive dishes consumed by the art feeders of New York come from abroad. The foreign steamers, particularly the steamers of the French line, bring great quantities of very high-priced srticles of food to the city every week. And very few of these articles ever get by New York. The cluba get the lion's share of all the finer and most expensive articles, but the high-priced restaurants have a steady, and, within the past four or five years, a rapidly-growing demand for these products. The importation of poulardes du Mans, canards de Rouen and the most expensive European truits has grown steadily of late and has become no inconsiderable item in New York's bill of fare.

A poularde du Mans, or fat hen of Le Mans, is a bird which, like the Sirasburg goose, spends the last three or four months of 'her life in a box which barely permits her to move. Her only consolation during this season of retirement is that she has limitiess quantities of all the varieties of food she likes best and which are more calculated to make her flesh white and tepder and saturated with fat. Six dollars apiece is about what the poulardes cost, and some of them weigh almost as much as a small turkey.

The Rouen ducks are also extremely popular here in New York and are being imported in rapidly-increasing numbers. They are particularly fat and tender and they cost fust about the same as the poulardes, sometimes running up as high as $7 for a particularly fine one.

LOOKING FOR PELTIER. The Dr. J. C. Pellier who is so much wanted by the Sheriff of Riversida county for obtaining money under false pretenses is the selfsame doctor who recently buncoed this beach by posing as the advance representative of the Gages and Goulds, who are now touring Southern California. At Riverside and San Bernardino, as tere, the people upon whom he imposed his confidence and from whom he secured money were the trusting landlords. At Riverside he was the pretended manager of a gaiety company, which organization went to pieces after Peltier vamoosed. The Riverside Sheriff has sent out notices asking that Peltier be arrested on sight. The gay deceiver is so picturesquely described by Sheriff Coburn of Riverside that the fellow is already considered as good as under arrest. "When last seen," says the Sheriff in his tracer, "Peltier wore a celluloid collar and needed a shave. He is odd appearing for the reason that his stomach seems to be falling. Weighs 250 pounds. . . He is a big, peculiar looking man, the like of whom is seldom seen."

This apnication, it is expected, the trustees will consider at their meeting tomorrow night. The gas people have already secured 500 contracts, and in these it is stipulated that the plant will be installed and in operation by July 1. In order to be ready to supply gas by that time, work must be commenced on the laying of the mains at once.

One pint will sometimes make a peck of trouble. One "pint" OFF in tailor ing will sometimes bring about a barrel of complaints. We've got to be particularly particular to see that there isn't a single "pint" off in Brauer-Krohn Tail

Even though we are mak ing to order any $9 trous for $6.75, any $8 pair for $6.75, any $8 pair for $6.75, any $7 pair for $5.75, any $6 pair for $4.75. If we fail to make these trousers agood as the average, we'll fail to make steady customers of those who will "try" us during this sale.
